Task Seating

Employee comfort is one of today's top workplace challenges. Organizations want ergonomic solutions that foster well-being and engagement for a range of people, with a good return on their investment.

From the second you sit down, Soji™ brings your body and mind into sync. Highly adjustable, Soji seating offers more ergonomic options than most in its class. Designed for diverse people, spaces, and work modes, Soji delivers effortless comfort and enhanced well-being.

Thoughtful Design, Informed Ergonomics

Soji brings exceptional comfort to just about anyone. Built on a foundation of groundbreaking seating research, Soji embraces the relationship between the human body and chair. Over three decades of comfort studies, 5+ billion data points, and extensive user testing inspired Soji's signature feature—the patented adjustable lumbar.

Effortless Support

Soji is a comfortable and reliable seating solution that offers support for nearly all people, postures, and workstyles. With its host of ergonomic features and smoothly operating adjustments, Soji lets each user personalize the sitting experience to their own preferences, ensuring comfort and promoting well-being.

One Chair Line, Multiple Functions

From touchdowns or conference rooms to task seating for individual workstations in a variety of industry settings—Soji offers more options to support employees' well-being on a budget.

Design Choices

Soji task chair and stool offer design freedom with 11 bleach cleanable standard knit back colors and a range of back and seat upholstery options—including other bleach cleanable fabrics, leathers, and faux leathers. Upholstered backs have a backing that coordinates with the trim color. Standard trim is Black; options are Fog and Snow. The base is standard in plastic, with available polished or painted aluminum option.

Statement of line may vary by global region.
